

Offer infolines with a local phone number to your clients

With help of ivr software, your clients can build their own infolines with a local phone number. They can attach employees to one single line and answer the call simultaneously.

Local

Your client can select a local number from one of the 20 available countries

2nd number

The number will be connected to the current client number through simple redirection or to a phone answering application

Multiple connections

Your client can attach more than one number to an infoline. The first person that picks up the phone will be connected

Integration

Your client can integrate the phone with various systems like ocl and have a list of client calls that can be used by customer support

Recording

The system will allow for recording the phone calls for your and your employees' protection

SIP

The system allows for redirecting the call to an existing number or connecting it to internet phone through SIP
